66 It is very clear that until the middle of the week the weather will be clear and hot with temperatures rising over 32 degrees. There should be less sunny spells from Thursday but there will be no rain! That is good news for those who wish to enjoy the summer, at least until the beginning of the school year.

One more sunny week

Editor-in-chief Milena BUDIMIR

This summer has beaten all the records, meteorological and statistics. It has shown that Croatian tourism is blooming and growing for one million guests have gone through our homeland. And the heat? It should be hot in the summer, shouldn't it?

We have learned something from you, and that is that all is possible and there is time for everything when you love what you are doing. And which reporter in the world would not like to work for a paper that has no trace of evil in it? I have succeeded in that and am proud of it, writing for the paper without politicians, behind-the-scenes, problems and difficulties, which is the one in front of you. Just nice things. Good things. And that is what we deserve when on vacation!

But let's start from the beginning. Many things have happened on our coast, really many. Let's admit it – there are not enough pages to draw up reports on all the events. We reported the Hvar marathon! That was a brilliant sports event! And the aesthetics! Hvar is marvellous, take my word for it. Those who visited it have made no mistake. If you have some time left over, do visit it.

Then, the Šibenik waters. We made a stop in Prvić luka, visited their fair of homemade products. There is no import, no chemistry, only the efforts of the locals.

We also took a glimpse back into the past. Split organized the Days of Diocletian. The emperor was not well loved in his time but today he is a real hit. The entire city dresses in togas, drinks and eats like in the past, in Roman times and there is plenty of entertainment. Real one. Roman.

CROATIA ONLINE

Dalmatia as the main theme of the new issue of tipTravel magazine

Author Alma RADOŠ

In late summer or early autumn, marvellous scenes will appear from southern to northern Dalmatia with numerous events, different experiences – states tipTravel magazine. The first thirty pages of this online magazine on tourism and travelling represent Dalmatian destinations that are worth visiting. Besides attractions and the rich offer of rural areas of the Dubrovnik-Neretva County, Central Dalmatia is represented by its strongest assets such as Split, Brela and Šolta, and also destinations that are being all the more discovered by tourists such as Imotski, Klis and Kaštel. The Šibenik-Knin County is described as a paradise for seamen while the island of Murter and the town of Vodice are specially represented. The story of Dalmatia is rounded up with the unique Krka National Park – whose photograph is the highlight of the front page of tipTravel magazine, and there are also interesting points on Galešnjak and the church of St. Anastasia. Readers round the world, users of computers, tablets and smartphones will be inspired with a new trip to Dalmatia and Croatia considered that the remaining hundred pages of the magazine consist of reports from all corners of Croatia and several themes on world destinations. It is to be reminded that this magazine issued every three months in three languages – Croatian, English and Ger-

Dalmatian destinations will be shown on thirty pages of the total of 114 of the issue published in English, German and Croatian man is of unlimited range.
